

History

The non-profit organization Shiseigakusha started as a welfare service under Government Regulation for Juvenile Delinquency in 1912. It was the origin Shiseigakusha Tachikawa Organization, which accepted by the Government as a welfare foundation in 1942. After World War II, under the new welfare law Shiseigakusha continued to provide various welfare services, including child welfare, welfare for the elderly and childcare services based on the philosophy of "a sincere heart."

Since its opening as a home for the elderly in 1951, the Shisei Senior Service Center has been responsible for welfare for the elderly in the Tachikawa area for more than half a century, and has developed pioneering projects that meet the present needs of the local community, by opening a Subsidized home for the elderly in 1963, as well as a care home for the elderly and a pioneering day care center (day service center) in 1977.

In 1998 Shiseigakusha was divided into two separate foundations, Shiseigakusha Tachikawa and Shiseigakusha Tokyo.

A unit-based care home for the elderly was established in April 2000. In April 2003, a group living home (Supported independent life style unit care Group home) was established as an alternative to the Care home for the elderly, suggesting a new lifestyle for the elderly.

The Shisei Senior Service Center started a base for new services to develop services in cooperation with local NPOs in Higashi Motomachi, Kokubunji City in 2006. In 2009, a community-based facility, the Shisei Home Minna, was established in Namiki-cho, Kokubunji City. The idea of this home is to interact between generations.

This home strives every day to provide comprehensive services that support the lives of elderly persons and their families, as a residential facility and a base for in-home services.

A local facility

Events such as the Shisei Senior Service Center Bazaar serve as opportunities to deepen understanding for us as a local facility, with the co-hosting, cooperation and participation of the local community in order to enhance mutual exchange.

Furthermore, as part of the efforts to implement "welfare education," we are vigorously advancing exchange between neighboring elementary and middle school students and facility users.

Calling new members to join the Supporters' Group!

The Shisei Senior Service Center Supporters' Group aims to provide financial assistance and cooperation to ensure that the facility's welfare projects for the elderly will be soundly operated. We hope that, with your support, the facility will contribute to the further improvement of the welfare of the elderly and promote more enriched projects.

Consultation Committee for Users

(Third party committee)

We have established a Consultation Committee for Users, a third party organization, which can receive and provide consultation on requests, opinions and complaints about the services provided by Shisei Senior Service Center. Committee members include experts and family members of users, as well as consultation volunteers from the local community who work as advocates for the users and strive to improve the services provided by Shisei Senior Service Center. Please call Tel: 042-527-0374 with your opinions, requests and complaints.

Volunteer activities

Around 14000 volunteers are involved in a variety of activities at Shisei Senior Service Center every year. Volunteer coordinators can provide consultation for people who are interested in volunteer activities. Please feel free to contact us at any time.
